Program Description

Due Process 101 is an extensive compilation of facts, legal concepts, relevant research, case study results, suggested strategies, and supporting information; all specifically designed to support the proactive (not reactive) individual mindset.

The key purpose of Due Process 101 is to provide individuals with the crucial information needed to best defend themselves against the due process abuses that are so inherent to virtually all legal proceedings encountered in today's world of aggressive capitalism, oppressive government, and crowded court dockets.

The information presented in Due Process 101 is extremely useful for individuals who are thrust into the legal arena with limited financial resources and must fend for themselves with respect to a myriad of typical legal issues; such as collections, divorce, child support and custody, foreclosures, evictions, bankruptcies, traffic violations, DUI, business disputes, compliance issues, regulatory orders, and a host of other criminal and civil court actions.

The core objective of Due Process 101 is to provide some immediate, advance preparation with respect to urgent matters where a very modest investment of money and time can dramatically reduce one's exposure to loss.

The single-registration program cost is $295 for unlimited online access for one year. This cost is subject to applicable discounts, premium incentives, and is subject to change without notice.
